Why is Baptism so important?

Baptism is 'the washing of regeneration and renewal of the Holy Spirit, without which one cannot enter the kingdom of God' (CCC 1215). The Baptismal Font is our 'tomb and mother' – we die with Christ and rise with him to new life so that we might walk in newness of life as a Child of God. Christ's death didn't just restore us to God's friendship but raised us to a new dignity of being a son of God, enabling us to cry out 'Abba Father!' Before, we understood God as distant, perhaps even to be appeased with sacrifices, but now Jesus has revealed God as relational, like a Father to Son. We become a Temple of the Holy Spirit, who makes his dwelling in a soul in a state of grace.

Forgiveness of sin is a key aspect: original sin and for adult baptism, personal sins also. Baptism purifies our creation, making us holy – we become Saints! (Concupiscence remains, disordered desires that anchor us to this passing world, hindering the life of grace - hence the need for regular sacramental reconciliation throughout our earthly pilgrimage). Baptism unites us to Jesus Christ; we are sealed with his indelible mark which cannot be undone or repeated. We share in his three-fold offices: we become priests, prophets and kings. These privileges bring obligations: A priest prays, offering his life to God, a prophet speaks the word of God and a king leads people, in truth, into the Kingdom of Heaven.

Baptism incorporates us into the Church of God, granting the privilege of participating in the Holy Liturgy, itself a memorial of the cross and the work of our redemption. The baptised are 'living stones', becoming 'a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, God's own people' (1 Peter 2:9) whom He has called out of darkness into his wonderful light (CCC 1268). A Christian who chooses not to gather with Christ's Body denies themselves the support and graces of the community; hence the obligation of the community to visit the housebound so that they are never cut off from the body. As we dip our fingers into the Holy Water and make the sign of the Cross, we remember with great joy the day of our baptism.

With my prayers and best wishes, Fr Simon.
