8th December 2024

Second Sunday of Advent, C.

What great deeds the Lord worked for us!

Indeed, we were glad!

It is often said that a priest is the least permanent member of a parish family. I often think that, at least in my case, I am the least holy, as I see so many examples of devotion to our Lord in our communities. So, I was glad to have the opportunity on Tuesday to pray for a while with our Diocesan family of clergy at Worth Abbey.

I opened up my Bible and wondered what passage to use for prayer. Immediately I thought that, with the Advent of Christ near, I should go back to that Christmas staple reading, the opening of John's Gospel.

I hardly need to remind you of the opening words: "In the beginning was the Word... and the Word was God". Especially as we begin to use our new Lectionaries, a reminder of God as the "logos"- literally in Greek "the one who speaks"- was inspiring. God speaks to us in our hearts all the time, whether in our liturgies, or immediately to us as we pray.

Yet more wonderful, however, was the reminder that He is the light of the world. In these dark winter months, the image of God shining brightly is great by itself, but it's also a reminder that He gives His light to us to let us see the path of love to follow. Moreover, we are like the planets, which cannot shine without the light of the Sun, but, in that light, can reflect brightness. We can show God's light to the world in our love and our lives.

So, this Advent, let's do just that: let's shine out in our darkening world as beacons of God's love, letting everyone know that God's love and care is the true light to enlighten everyone, and that, if we let him speak to us, we can give that Word of life to everyone who desperately needs to hear and receive it.

God Bless, Fr Stephen.
