ALL SAINTS Yr C
2nd November 2025

Such are the people who seek your face, O Lord.

Father Stephen's Update

I have always been very flattered by having the name Stephen. Carrying the name of the first Christian martyr- especially given how flatteringly he is portrayed in the Acts of the Apostles- is rather nice (even though I am really named after my great uncle).

It is a great joy of our Catholic faith that we have connections with the saints in heaven. It could be the saints after whom we are named. It could be our parish patron saints- and we have three wonderful ones in Our Blessed Lady, St Mary Magdalene and St Martha.

It could be our local saints. Sussex is particularly rich in local saints. St Philip Howard can inspire us with his quiet heroism under persecution. St Richard of Chichester gives us an example of devotion to the Gospel (and ensuring priests behave properly- a suitable inspiration at least for me!). St Cuthman, St Wilfred- we are very fortunate to have such holy people from our county.

We can be inspired by any saint. Many people have a special feeling for St Pio of Pietrelcina. In Saint Mary Magdalene's, we have a window, dedicated to the CWL, commemorating more of the Forty Martyrs, Saints Margaret Clitherow, and Margaret Line, whose heroic support of the faith has inspired so many.

Of course, they can inspire us, but we also believe that saints can intercede for us- bringing our prayers and needs to God in heaven. Therefore we can have a very personal relationship with any saint, and can ask them to help us in our prayers.

And yet, wonderful as our relationship with our heavenly friends is, there is another dimension to the feast of All Saints. You will know that, to become recognised as a saint, there is a process, involving recognition of two miracles, one for someone to be declared blessed, and one to be canonised as a saint. Today we also can honour those whose miracles have never been known, but whose heroic virtue is known to God.

This means that also we can remember today that we too are all called to be saints. We can try to imitate the wonderful deeds of the saints. God wants all of us to respond to our unique vocation- our calling from him- and to try to act as saints. After all, the word saint comes from the Latin word sanctus, and many of you will know that word from the Mass- it means simply "holy". Peter notes that Jesus asks us all to "be holy, as I am holy" (1 Pet 1:16). In other words, let's all aim to be saints- it is our calling from God.

With my prayers, Father Stephen.

We pray for those who have died: Sr John Oglivie, Colin Andrews RIP.
